Measuring your rubber track is relatively straightforward if you know how. Below you will see our simple guide to help you identify the rubber track size you have fitted to your machine. All you need is a tape measure or ruler. For our example, we have selected a 300x52.5x78 wide gauge rubber track.

STEP 1 - Measuring the width - Place the tape measure across the top of the rubber track (as in the photo) and note the size. This measurement is always given in mm (example shown is 300mm).

STEP 2 - Measuring the pitch - This is the measurement from the centre of one lug to the centre of the next lug. This measurement is always given in mm (example shown is 52.5mm).

STEP 3 - Counting the quantity of links - This is the quantity of pairs of links on the inside of the track. Mark one of the links off and then count each link around the total circumference of the track until returning back to the link which was marked. (example shown is 78 links with 6 links shown on the photo).
STEP 4 - measuring the gauge - measure between the lugs from the inside of one lug to the inside of the lug opposite. This measurement is always given in mm. (example shown is 46mm which is a wide gauge track)

IMPORTANT - step 4 is only required on 300mm/350mm/400mm and 450mm wide tracks

STEP 5 - checking the type of roller fitted - this step is only required on some of the 300mm and 400mm wide tracks which can have an outer rail type roller style fitted as per on the left of picture or a inner rail roller style fitted on the right of the picture.

STEP 6 - look for any markings - If you are having difficulties measuring your track, it is worth looking for any markings that will help you identify the size. Many rubber tracks have the size stamped into the rubber. This is usually found on the underside of the track. The numbers represent the width (300) x the pitch (52.5), the gauge (W) x the number of links (78).
